Comment:
While the regulations do not call for a zero net loss of Ag designated land, is it possible to re-designate other land as part of the development plan? While development is crucial to the success of the community, integrity is also important. As a life long Clark county resident it is important to me that my community acknowledges the fact that Ag land is important to wildlife as well as community health so I would like to see some land redesignated to offset the dedesignation.
